

Rice Crop Diseases

Rice blast is one of the most common rice diseases caused by the fungus Magnaporthe oryzae. Symptoms include diamond-shaped lesions on leaves and reduced grain yield.

Prevention: Use resistant rice varieties, apply balanced fertilizers, and avoid excessive nitrogen.

Other common rice diseases include bacterial leaf blight and sheath blight. Proper field sanitation and crop rotation can help reduce disease spread.